

ISSUES IN INFORMATION TECHNOLOGYRight to Privacy.

This is the fundamental legal right that enshrined in various legal instrument with an intention to protect individual privacy

Example

In 2022 there was imple establishment of law called Personal Data Protection Act so as to enforce Right to Privacy, another example is Universal Declaration of Human

Why is privacy Right is important?

① Privacy right ensures that those who misuse data are held accountable. It tend to take some measures in case the data is misused

ad

② It tend to provide remedy in which individual can enforce his or her right

③ Prevents the government to<sup>from</sup> spying individual information without cause

④ To keep organizations or data controllers/processors from using personal data/information they receive for his or her own goal.

⑤ Helps to maintain social boundaries. This is when an individual set boundaries on what information should go to the public or not. This boundaries is person's decision to make.

③ To ensure that personal information is collected in accordance of data subject.
④ To ensure that data information will be processed in a manner that will safeguard the Security

⑥ Helps to build trust. Gives you confidence when one want to disclose his or her ~~for~~ information

Right to the data Subject.
(Right of the data Subject.)

Right

⑦ Tends to ensure that we have control on personal data

① Right to be informed ~~on~~ of data collection and processing.

As a data subject, you should be informed on collection of that information and processing of that information

⑧ Tend to protect <sup>freedom</sup> ~~figure~~ of speech and thoughts.

⑨ Privacy protect Reputation.

② Right to access the data collected and processed. No one should deny you to access your data for any time

Highlight (Things to note)

Go and Read about law called personal Data Protection act and Cyber crimes Act.

③ Right to object the processing of personal data especially when the processing will lead to adverse impact to the data Subject.

Objectives of Personal data Protection Act

① To ensure the personal information are disclosed lawfulness, transparent and fairness

④ Right to rectify personal data to ensure its accuracy.

② To ensure that personal

⑤ Right to be compensated.

In the event of breach or theft of your information there should be compensation for the loss that was caused.